THE PRESIDENT.

ALARM AT THE PRESIDENT.

Ominous signs began to show themselves in the horizon of last night. This morning there was at times that abated breath which foreboded evil.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

ELBERON, N. J., September 16, 9 A. M.—At the examination of the President, at 8:30 this morning, his temperature was 98.6, pulse 104, respiration 21. The febrile rise during the night was not as pronounced as it usually has been. There was at times considerable acceleration of pulse. He, however, slept comparatively well and took stimulants and nourishment as directed. His cough was somewhat more troublesome during the first part of the night, and the expectoration rather more purulent. The discharge from the wound is less abundant and not quite as healthy in appearance. The pulse, however, has more volume, and his general condition does not seem to have materially changed in any respect.

(Signed) D. W. BLISS,
F. H. HAMILTON.

ELBERON, N. J., September 16, 10.15 A. M.—The situation this morning is less favorable, and grave anxiety exists as to whether the President will be able to overcome the result of his extreme debility. Bed sores have again made their appearance, and the discharge from the wound is very unsatisfactory.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The specials from Elberon are of the most gloomy character. The Post says the President is nearing another crisis. The septic condition of his system is manifesting itself in various threatening symptoms; bed sores, for instance, which were present in Washington, and which healed apparently after his removal to Long Branch, again made their appearance this morning. His pulse fluctuates wildly and his mind is less clear.

Dr. Boynton, however, did not conceal his opinions, and said he thought the situation looked very grave, and that it was doubtful whether the remaining vitality of the President would carry him safely through, even without other complications. The right lung is not healing, but gave every evidence of an extended abscess and increased inflammation.

DEATH OF GEN. BURNSIDE.

Major-General Ambrose E. Burnside, of Rhode Island, died suddenly at his residence in Bristol. He was born at Liberty, Indiana, and was graduated at West Point, went into the service at first in the war with Mexico, then as Colonel of the 1st Regiment Rhode Island volunteers, and appeared at Bull Run as Brigadier General. In January 1862 he commanded an expedition to North Carolina, which left via Fortress Monroe, then via Roanoke and finally at Newberne, and operated in most parts of eastern North Carolina.

He was made Major-General in May 18, 1862, and ordered to Fredricksburg, then at the battle of South Mountain and at Antietam. He succeeded McClellan in the Army of the Potomac.—His movements around Fredericksburg as commander of the Army of the Potomac were bold and well conceived, but disastrous to our forces on account of the superior sagacity of Lee.

He was succeeded by Hooker, and sent to the Department of Ohio and put in charge of the famous ninth corps. After his successful operations in the west, he come back again to the Potomac and Grant, the Wilderness, Spottsyvania and Petersburg. His sun as a great commander had set. Nobody had ever suspected him with dishonor, want of courage, or want of intrepidity. But he left behind him a career of mistakes—not to say blunders.

After the war he entered political life. Rhode Island worshipped him. He would have taken her highest honors had he lived twenty more years.—Marble and bronze await him among the peopled mausoleums of the dead. Dear memories follow him. A life not without mistakes, but certainly without bad purposes survives him, and he will mark gone as they roll over his tomb.

TREATMENT OF CONVICTS.

SENATOR W. P. WILLIAMSON REJOINS.

TARBORO, N. C., Sept. 7, 1881.

EDITOR NORTH STATE:—The open letter addressed through your columns to E. R. Stamps, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Penitentiary, about the horrible condition of the convicts farmed out to the W. N. C. R. R., has elecited from the Democratic press considerable discussion. This much abused publication was innocent enough in itself, merely saying in substance to the public through the official head of the penitentiary that the current report was that scurvy, in a bad form, prevailed to an alarming extent among the convicts, and my information was that the disease arose from inhuman treatment in the matter of clothing, food and work, intimating that the writer, as a member of the Senate Committee on Penal Institutions, might be excused from rising to inquire of Chairman Stamps if the given report was true, saying never a word about politics and making no specific charges.

The Jarvis organs kept profoundly quiet on the subject of inquiry until the Moore Gazette, one of the faithful, had the impudence to say:

"This grave charge against the penitentiary authorities has been made now for twelve days publicly, and we have seen no denial of it, either from Mr. Stamps or the Raleigh press, * * We have claimed that the Democratic party was the party of justice and true reform. The large majority of its voters have honestly believed this, and they do not intend to allow evils or abuses to be covered up or whitewashed over just to screen negligent or corrupt officials. We, for one, have no idea of winking at official mal-administration because it is done by a Democrat."

This bomb brought confusion to the camp, wringing attention from the administration, and causing Editor Ashe to jump to his feet, who, on the 27th of August, said in the Observer, official mouth piece:

"Why did not the Gazette, instead of assuming that there was an attempt at whitewashing by Democratic officials, prefer to conclude that Mr. Williamson had his piece published in the North State merely for political considerations? Has the Gazette ever discovered that Mr. Stamps or the Raleigh press allowed evils to be covered up or whitewashed over just to screen negligent or corrupt officials?'"

And on the next day:

"It is altogether in keeping with the way Mr. Williamson conducts his political matters to have published in the North State a piece to make political capital, under the guise of a letter addressed to a state officer. * * * It was apparently a mere piece of political balderdash on the part of Mr. Williamson. * * *

* * Mr. Stamps became acquainted with the fact that scurvy had broken out among the convicts some time ago, and immediately every possible step was taken to arrest the disease. He went himself to the convict station and made a searching investigation into the matter. Dr. McGee, the physician to the penitentiary, was sent up from Raleigh to make a medical examination. * * *

At the July meeting of the Board—being subsequent to the time when the scurvy had appeared—Mr. Troy was temporarily put in charge, vice Major Roger P. Atkinson, resigned, and since then the Board has not filled the place permanently * * We will probably refer to this matter again"

The above is supplemented with a short note from Mr. Stamps, who—with his nose uplifted at an angle of forty-five degrees, and with a haughty disdain of all things mundane except his own sweet self, being a Bourbon true yard wide, and warranted to wash—indulged in the following words:

"The duties of my position as Chairman of the Board of Directors of the penitentiary, are important, and I think I properly appreciate the responsibility attaching thereto, and, while I invite investigation from all duly constituted authority, I do not feel bound to notice every article directed against myself or the institution over whose administration I have the honor to preside that partizan zeal or other motives may dictate."

Whereupon I sent the Observer a letter, from which I quote:

"If the charge that the convicts on the road beyond Asheville, owing to an attempt to feed able bodied men each on twenty-six cents per day, and working them during the hot weather in June and July, unwholesome food being, given, resulting in scurvy in its worst form, are in a condition of horrible suffering, be untrue, why does not Mr. Stamps explain or deny?

In the event of a denial, I will undertake to prove by gentlemen high in the councils of the Democratic party and in active accord with the present administration that the charge made by me is warranted by the facts.

Whether this is 'a mere piece of political balderdash on the part of Mr. Williamson,' the public can judge when ALL the facts come out. You seem to have discovered some of them, and if, as one would infer from your remarks, you desire the 'lights turned on,' I propose two questions:

1. What caused scurvy to break out among the convicts?

2. Who is Major Roger P. Atkinson, and why did he resign?

But it seems to me to be unnecessary to resolve this matter into a question of party politics. It is one of humanity—much more so, indeed, than was prohibition."

Commenting on this Editor Ashe practically charges that Major Atkinson is to blame and attempts to make that worthy gentleman the scape goat. Hear him:

"Mr. Williamson intimates that there was some connection between the resignation of Major Roger P. Atkinson, who was in charge of the convict force, and this breaking out of the scurvy. If so, it only goes to show how unfounded is the suggestion of the Moore Gazette, that Mr. Stamps would shield or whitewash anybody because he was a Democratic official." * * *

Any wrong doing on the part of Mr. Stamps necessarily reflects upon Gov. Jarvis, and knowing this, the Observer man is sent in double quick time to the Capitol and brings back a copy of a letter from the Governor's letter book, which Jarvis, on June 13, 1881, sent to Stamps, enclosing therewith one from Colonel A. B. Andrews, remonstrating about the treatment the convicts were receiving. Listen to Andrews:

"At Sandy Mush quarters, the day I spent there, forty-two were in—over one-fourth of the working force. Last winter we lost a great deal of time from frost bite, caused by improper clothing, and this summer from improper diet.—This is unfair to the railroad authorities, and humanity to the prisoners demands a different treatment."

Ah—that Edgecombe Radical can now no longer be withered under my sovereign contempt, soliloquizes Dignus Stamps. "I will suspend for a moment my awful importance! I will actually deign to notice the matter!" So in the Observer, of September 3d, with that long face, which ordinarily he exhibits only when singing psalms on Sunday, and with evident satisfaction to himself and his Boss—Jarvis—he is heard from. Here he goes:

"The supervisor of convicts on the Western North Carolina Railroad up to the 9th of July was Major Roger P. Atkinson, a gentleman of considerable culture and acquirements, high character and the very best social connections. Every one who has ever known him testifies to his strict ideas of right and his general faithfulness in the discharge of duties. Dr. Burgin, physician to convicts, though not old in years nor professionally, is a gentleman, a graduate in medicine, in high esteem with his breethren, and represented to be kind and gentle in his ministrations to his patients. With such officers, and with reports almost uniformly testifying to the good condition of the convicts, and the additional facts that I had myself visited the quarters in April, when there were no indications of scurvy, my surprise and [illegible] when I received on the 13th or June the letter from Gov. Jarvis, enclosing one from Col. A. B. Andrews, both of which were published in your issue of yesterday. Pursuant to the invitation of the Governor, I accompanied him to the mountains, and instituted as vigorous investigation as to the responsibility for the presence of scurvy among the convicts as I was capable of making. My theory was that Dr. Burgin was responsible and should be held accountable, but I was soon convinced that he had given warning of the disease and speedily taken steps to prevent it. This shifted the responsibility to Major Atkinson, and I left Asheville with the intention of so reporting to the Board of Directors at their next meeting in July. Before said meeting, however, not being thoroughly satisfied as to the cause of the outbreak of scurvy and the responsibility attaching thereto, and for the purpose of doing anything I could to relieve the sufferers and prevent a return of the disease, I prevailed upon Dr. J. W. McGee, physician to the Penitentiary, to visit the quarters upon the Western North Carolina Railroad and report to the Board of Directors. This was done. The doctor reported that diet had but little, if anything, to do with the scurvy outbreak, but attributed it to 'overcrowding, foul air and exposure, and suggested certain changes in the construction of the quarters, the use of disinfectants, etc., and the disease speedily abated. But it will be asked, why did Major Atkinson suffer this 'exposure, overcrowding and foul air? It will be remembered that last winter was one of the most severe we have had for years, which fact, together with the character of the work, will account for a great deal of the 'exposure,' and I should certainly have taken the position before the Board at the July meeting, that Major Atkinson must be made to show cause why he should not be held responsible for the evil effects of 'overcrowding and foul air,' had he not resigned before that time."

Then to make sure of Major Atkinson as a scape-goat, Editor Ashe whacks at him again:

"Elsewhere Mr. Stamps give a plain statement about the breaking out of the scurvy among the convicts. It appears that he was up there inspecting them in April, that the scurvy broke out afterwards, and is attributable to the effects of the winter, that proper action was taken, and the only person to whom blame could possibly attach resigned."

So far, Jarvis, Stamps and Editor Ashe have had their own way; they made short work of the Moore Gazette; put all the blame on Atkinson; forced him to resign; the one whitewashed the other till all three were but too well satisfied with their success—but another Richmond here enters the field, and that Richmond, a powerful one, too, in the friend of the hitherto defenseless Atkinson.

The Wilmington Star comes to the front. First trying to dampen any effect the publication of the facts might have on the minds of its readers as to the sanctity of the Democratic party by stating that public attention to the matter had been directed by "Mr. W. P. Williamson, of Edgecombe, a Radical, who aspires to leadership in that party," it rushes to the defense of Maj. Atkinson. Jarvis' organ, in admitting the truth of my statements, saddles Atkinson with the blame. The Star believes him to be a man whose life has been such that no one will believe those who speak evil of him and proceeds to defend his reputation with great earnestness. "Its cultured editor, though at times petulant and intensely devoted to Bourbonism, is a good friend when he professes to be, and I must admire his pluck in defending Maj. Atkinson at the cost of a collision with the organ of the administration, which might involve, under some circumstances, the reading out of the party the aforesaid cultured editor, than which nothing would be more terrible to the average hide-bound Bourbon. To place the blame, however, where it rightfully belongs, the Star, on Sept. 4th said:

"Major Roger P. Atkinson merely had supervision of the convicts. We do not believe that any fault can be laid to his charge. They got such food and clothing as the state furnished. But he will be heard from."

This was a clincher, and the Observer, seeing what a scrape it had got in with its Wilmington cotemporary, admits all the Star says as to the high character of Maj. Atkinson, and after the manner of a frightened cur with his tail between his legs, dodges the issue, whining thus:

"Mr. Williamson, who, notwithstanding his disclaimer, seems to have had an eye to making a little political capital, charges that the negroes took the scurvy because the authorities attempted to feed them on twenty-six cents a day. Twenty-six cents a day is, we suppose, what it would cost to feed Mr. Williamson at an ordinary country boarding-house; that is $7.80 a month or $93.60 a year. How many school teachers in Edgecombe county pay that much board per annum? The ordinary cost of feeding a farm hand is estimated at only five or six dollars per month or eighteen to twenty cents a day, and yet our Tarboro philosopher makes a great point on the twenty-six cents per day item, as inducing scurvy."

Whew! Editor Ashe knew very well that the cost of maintaining each convict per day was what I was talking about in referring to the matter of only feeding but guarding, clothing and all other expenses as well. The apparent relish with which Editor Ashe wrote the above induces me to think that he, as an intellectual specimen of an unfortunate creation, seemed thoroughly impressed with the idea that he had done something exceedingly smart. When one thinks of the scarcity of thunderbolts and of the abundance of such items of mortality, he must weep. Indeed, it was so smart and so enduring that I advise him to sing with the poet:

Yet triumph not, O Time! Strong towers decay,
But a great name shall not pass away!

Such, Mr. Editor, is the case as presented to the public through this discussion. The evidence discloses:

1. That the convicts on the Western North Carolina Railroad were recently in a condition of horrible suffering, from the dire effects of scurvy, growing out of criminal negligence on the part of the Penitentiary authorities.—Col. Andrews, good Democratic authority, says so, and likewise Dr. McGee.

2. That the Democratic Party is responsible therefor. The Wilmington Star, good Democratic authority also, says that no fault can be laid to the charge of Major Atkinson, because the convicts got such food and clothing as the state furnished. The Democratic party is in power and has absolute control of the penitentiary.

In the language of Mr. Stamps, let, therefore, the present Executive and his party majority in the General Assembly have the anathemas of a humane and Christian people.

Senator from Edgecombe.

Living Giraffe.

Among the vast collection of rare animals will be the beautiful giraffes.—These are wonderful animals, and can be seen only with John Robinson's Big Show.

"SPOOPENDYKE" is only 25 cents, and if you don't get $2 50 worth of laughing out of it, send it to the editor of the POST, and he will take it off your hands.

Last Saturday evening walking along Front street, we met the Hon. J. B. Eaves, of Rutherford county. He accused us of not knowing him—but to know him was good for sore eyes.

Assaults with deadly weapons seem to be all the fashion now among a certain class of the community. Axes, razors and clubs are the instrnments of extermination used by the belligerents.

The steamer Wave, Captain Robeson, arrived here Wednesday evening from Fayetteville, having left there on Tuesday. At that time there had been a rise of 16 inches in the river, and the water was still rising.

Dr. Burkhead, in a recent letter to the Methodist Advance, speaking of his visit to Parliament in company with Mr. John D. Sprunt, formerly of this city, says that the M. P.'s he heard orate did not compare favorably with leading members of our Legislature in oratory or otherwise. Poor fellows.

Robinson's Circus will exhibit here to-morrow on 31 between Baden and Hanover streets, on Dickinson's hill, a large vacant lot, just in the rear of, and above the Carolina Central depot. It is approached by the wharf and depot roads, and by Boney bridge on Fourth street. Either walk is good and well lighted by the gas lamps.

A white man named Curlew was arrested on Monday night for firing a pistol. He was searched and placed in the guard room, but in a few minutes afterwards cut himself quite severely on the left arm, between the shoulder and the elbow, and upon examination a razor was found upon his person, which had been concealed in such a manner it escaped the notice of the officer who searched him.

The ship La Louisiana, with her cargo, was sold at auction Friday morning by Messrs. Grar'y of Messrs. Wilson & Eckels, junk dealers, for $40, and the cargo by Messrs. G. Boney & Sons for $72.58. The ship now lies on Frying Pan Shoals in 21 feet of water. She has been pretty well stripped of her rigging, but her copper bottom and bolts are said to be valuable. Her cargo consists of 800,000 feet of lumber.

A cable dispatch frome Rome to the New York Freeman's Journal announces that the Rev. Harry P, Aloysius Northrop, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Charleston, S. C., has been made Vicar Apostolic of North Carolina. Father Northrop is in his forty-first year. He made some preparatory studies at Mt. St. Mary's, Emmittsburg, Md. but completed them at Rome. Ordained in Rome in 1865, the Bishop of Charleston sent him to this city, where he remained three years, doing missionary work among the Catholics in this state.

A Great Feature.

with Old John Robinson's show which exhibits here to-morrow can be seen on exhibition a living sloth. This is the only animal of this species that has ever been on exhibition in America, and we very much doubt if any are on exhibition in the celebrated zoological gardens of the Old World,

BAD REPUTATION.—Joe Goodman, colored, was arrested in Brunswick county three weeks ago on the charge of stealing a box of tobacco, two sides of bacon, two or three sacks of meal and other articles. He was tried before Justice Dr. R. Walker and committed, but succeeded in making his escape from the officers. Since then he has been loafing about the neighborhood, carrying a shot gun, with which he threatened to shoot on sight the two colored witnesses who appeared against him at the trial. On satuaday night last information was received that Goodman was at his house, a party surrounded the building, and one of them knocked at the door. Goodman's wife responded, but hesitated about opening the door. Goodman was zipping up a plank from the floor during the delay, through which he got under the house and thus escaped. As he ran off two or three shots were fired at him, and from his actions and the exclamation he used immediately after the discharge of the weapon, his pursuers are confident that he was struck and probably fatally wounded. He is said to be a desperate character.

ROBINSON'S CIRCUS.—Robinson's circus was in Charlotte Wednesday. The Observer says:

John Robinson's circus yesterday fully sustained its its long established character. From the grand entry to the closing act there was a constant succession of first-class feats of the arena. The riding, the acrobats and tumblers, and the wonderful exhibition of strength by the man who handled the iron balls were particularly good. And this feature of the circus is what makes it immortal. The circus yesterday was distinguished for the number and character of these manly exhibitions. The bareback riding of Mr. Geo. Holland was especially fine, and the nerve of Signor Amerita in leaping from his horse through the ring of knives was thrilling. The acrobatic performances were especially brilliant. Equally so were the horizontal bar exhibitions, and the double trapeze performance by a man and woman on one side and a boy and a girl, both quite young, on the other, was very fine. The lameness of the boy, however, was rather painfully suggestive of the hardships of his young life. The trained dogs make decidedly the best exhibition of the kind in the country. Johnny Lowlow, the clown, was, as usual, inimitable.

The menagerie this year is much fuller than last year. Among the most remarkable curiosities are two giraffes which have been with the circus only about three weeks, the tamanoir, or ant bear, the most peculiar looking animal ever exhibited here, the rhinoceros, a double-humped camel, besides a drove of dromedaries, the big ox, weighing 2,500 lbs in his present lean condition from the severity of the weather, and last, but not least, the man-killing elephant "Chief", who was brought into the ring heavily chained. The elephants are remarkably well trained. The large troop of small ponies was much admired. The street parade was ordinarily good.

A hawk bite, brought here from London as an experiment, is to be raised on the Navassa rice fields to frighten away the rice birds.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, SEPT. 18, 1881.

The me annual temperature of New Hampsire is only 46, but the mean annual temperature of North Carolina is only 59. Texas and Arizona are each 69 right on the average thro' the year.

Water for use is becoming very scarce in many parts of the south, in Richmond it sells for 5cts. per bucket, and in the country near, it sells for $1 per barrel, with an upward tendency.

The sun is about entering the constellation of Libra, having not many months ago drove his chariot of fire across the borders of Cancer, on his way to the region of the Wild Goat, Capricornus, where the blazing planet will almost hide his fiery crest in the frost of the gloomy winter solstice 96,000,000 miles from us, on whom he still sheds his light.

In the Congressional Globe of a few years ago the Hon. James A. Garfield is reported as having uttered in a speech in Congress the following language: "I look forward, sir, with aspiration to the time when our brave people will stand as one, united with sympathy and hope." Little did he anticipate then, that to-day he would in his own person fulfil that prophecy.

Dr. Gatling is having remarkable success with his new one-barrelled torpedo gun. As first constructed its weight was nearly 400 pounds; dispensing with the brass casing and other parts he will be able to reduce the weight to about 250 pounds. This will render the new weapon useful as a mountain howitzer. It fires from sixty to eighty shots per minute and will be as serviceable as the Hotchkiss revolving cannon.

The style of the present politics in Virginia is of the old fashioned, stubborn sort, of the days of the venerable Father Ritchie, when he rode his untamed mustang, and poised lances with the best of Virginia cavaliers. The Readjusters have the best of it. Cameron, a son of North Carolina, is the champion for Governor, the candidate for Lieutenant Governor is ex-Senator Lewis, while Blair, from the mountains of the southwest, is driving all before him. Daniels is no match for him. The gallant Mahone is making fiery charges from day to day.

The Newbern News, speaking of the purpose of taking the extension of the Elizabeth City and Norfolk railroad beyond Edenton in the direction of Kinston opposes the project. What is near to the estuaries of the coast as is feasible, and striking as far as possible the large towns, or rather the important points like Newbern, Little Washington, Jacksonville and other points, so as to give a highway to the people on the coast better than they have, to that fertile region, and the oysters, clams and fish in the meantime. Stems from the great through lines do not accommodate the coast people.

The New York Tribune takes an occasion to do an act of justice to one of the most sagacious statesmen and one of the oldest veterans in the service of the Nation:

Senator Sherman will make his first speech in the Ohio canvass at Mansfield next Saturday evening, and will afterward continue in active service till the end of the campaign. The Democrats have been circulating reports that he was not in sympathy with the Republican ticket and would not help re-elect it. As usual, they were wrong. Mr. Sherman is neither a sulker nor a shirker. He always does his part of the heavy work, and there is no Republican whose work produces better results.

A RADICAL ON A RAMPAGE.

"Jeff Davis is in Europe, and his health is reported as very bad. But for the mistaken leniency of the American people, Mr. Davis would have died of threat disease about fifteen years ago." —Chicago Trib. Rad. Organ.

This is copied with evident satisfaction by the Baltimore American, another Radical organ. Why did not the U. S. Government try Mr. Davis? It knew it could not make a case, and it was afraid to try the issue. This is the unadorned truth. Mr. Davis could no more have been hanged than any other true southern man could have been hanged, for he was no more guilty than all the others. In fact, as he shows conclusively in his able work, he was not as guilty as hundreds and thousands and hundreds of thousands of his brother Confederates.

They call it "mistaken leniency." They think this eminently decent after persecuting and most shamefully abusing Mr. Davis during his imprisonment. —Star.

We are glad Jeff Davis has gone to Europe, because we believe the further he gets from the south the better. He has done nothing but mischief since the war ended and he became a rabid, babbling, imbecile jabberer. The older he grows the sillier he gets. When the war closed, while every northern soldier who had any respect for himself, and sense enough to let him alone, nobody thought of hanging him, and it is an open secret that there was a plot to get him out of the country by way of Cuba, as the easiest way to dispose of him, a plot to which some influential persons around the government nodded assent. The government had no time to load itself down with state trials as some suggest, nor were they afraid to.

Davis hasn't even succeeded in making himself a respectable victim or a martyr. He has committed the greatest blunder of all by writing a two-volume book so clumsy and frivolous and full of misrepresentations, that it excites the contempt even of the best soldiers of the south. He would have been held in some sort of respect by his former associates and those whom he had misled and is now lying about, if he had not continued adding meanness to meanness each day that he made the earth odious by his presence.

RAILROAD WAR.

The railroad war that is now going on between Senator Vance, Gov. Jarvis and Treasurer Worth on the one side, and Capt. A. B. Andrews and others on the other, is of very great interest to the people and the tax payers of the state, and when all of the facts are elicited we will publish them. For the present we refrain from taking any part in the discussion.

The trustees of the Jordan estate, in a letter declining to permit the removal of William Penn's bones to America, say: "If it could be shown that the possession of a leaden coffin that is supposed to contain the remains of the founder of Pennsylvania would more effectually impress his sentiments and teaching on the minds and consciences of American citizens than the splendid edifice that they propose to raise to his memory, a prima facie argument for its removal might possibly be maintained. The trustees believe that no such result would be likely to ensue; that the voice of William Penn speaks just as loudly from beneath the green turf at Jordan's as it could do from under the shadow of a stately dome in the City of Philadelphia."

ALL SORTS.

The New Senator, Lapham, is a cousin of Miss Susan B. Anthony, and shortly after his election, wrote to her thus: "Canandaigua, July 30, 1881.—Dear Cousin: I have only time now to return my sincere thanks for your cordial congratulation and kind words. Of the future I hope that our country will prosper, and that woman will yet be accorded her rights.

E. G. Lapham."

The Rev. Phillips Brooks, of Boston, is described as giving an exhilarating surprise to the "baggage smashers," at Bangor wharf the other day. He arrived at the wharf in a carriage, descended, asked where the baggagemaster was, seized his big trunk as if it were a trifling portmanteau and crossed the wharf lightly to where that lofty official was standing. It is recorded that those who did not know the genial rector of Trinity thought that he was the champion "strong man."

The paragraphist of the Chicago Inter Ocean perpetrates the following: There is said to be a baby in Washington born on the day the President was shot which displays all the symptoms of the Chief Magistrate. When he cannot retain food the baby labors under the same difficulty; when he feels bright the baby crows with delight; when he sinks the baby fails so fast as to make the parents despair. It has got so that if the baby cries in the night the neighbors raise their windows and cry "The President is worse." This story is as true, no doubt, as half of those that come from Washington.

Saving.

A saving woman at the head of a family is the very best savings bank established. The idea of saving is a pleasant one; and if the women imbibed it at once, they would cultivate it and adhere to it; and thus, when they are not aware of it, they would be laying the foundation of a competent security in a stormy time, and a shelter in a rainy day. The best way to comprehend it is to keep an account of all current expenses. Whether five hundred dollars or five thousand dollars are expended annually, there is a chance to save something if the effort is made. Let the housewife take the idea, act upon it, and she will save something where before she thought it impossible. This is a duty, yet not a sordid avarice, but a mere obligation that rests upon women as well as men. —Home Journal.

THE PRESIDENT.

Secretary of State, Blaine, cables Minister Lowell, London: President has an increase of fever last night. Better during the day, better symptoms not assuring.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

ELBERON, N. J., September 12, 9 A. M.—The President passed an unusually good night, his sleep being uninterrupted except occasionally to enable him to take nourishment. The suppuration from the parotid gland has almost entirely ceased. The opening from which pus is discharged is rapidly healing. His cough is less and expectoration has materially diminished. His temperature is 98.4, pulse 100, respiration 18.

(Signed) D. W. BLISS,
D. HAYES AGNEW.

Postmaster-General and Dr. Bliss are more cheerful about the President to-day.

Nothing to indicate an abscess.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

ELBERON, N. J., September 13, 8.30 A. M.—At the examination of the President at 8 A. M. to-day, his temperature was 99.4, pulse 100, respiration 20. He passed a comfortable night, sleeping most of the time, and on the whole his condition this morning is encouraging and gives promise of a good day.

(Signed) D. W. BLISS,
F. H. HAMILTON.

The President was placed in a semi-recumbent condition to-day without inconvenience.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

ELBERON, N. J., September 14, 9 A. M.—At the examination of the President at 8.30 this morning, his temperature was 98.4, pulse 100, respiration 19. He passed the night comfortably, sleeping sufficiently. He is bright and cheerful this morning, and has taken fruits and his first meal for the day with relish.

(Signed). D. W. BLISS,
F. H. HAMILTON.

The representative of the Associated Press, in a conversation with Dr. Bliss immediately after the issuance of the morning bulletin, inquired as to what length of time the President would probably remain at Long Branch. In reply Dr. Bliss said probably until the middle of October; that if his favorable condition continued and the several lesions healed satisfactory as it was believed they would, the President would rally very rapidly, and that in such event he thought a voyage to the southern coast on the Tallapoosa would be desirable and beneficial.

Dr. Hamilton is still satified with the progress of the patient, as are also Cols. Swain and Rockwell.

The day bids fair to be quite as favorable as yesterday.

ELBERON, N. J., September 14, 6.30 P. M.—At the examination of the President was 98 8, pulse 104, respiration the evening dressing at 7.30 p. m. his temperature was 99.2, pulse 112, respiration 21.

The President was placed on an invalid chair in a semi-recumbent position, about 12 m., and remained one hour and a half, sleeping part of the time. He was not fatigued by the transfer or change of position, and his general condition this evening is as favorable as usual, notwithstanding a slight febrile rise.

Method of Artificial Respiration.

We think it advisable, says the Canadian Journal of Medical Science, to direct attention to the following rules for resuscitating the partially drowned:

1. Instantly turn patient downward, with a large firm roll of clothing under stomach and chest. Place one of his arms under his forehead, so as to keep his mouth off the ground. Press with all your weight two or three times, for four or five seconds each time, upon patient's back, so that the water is pressed out of lungs and stomach, and drains freely out of mouth. Then,

2. Quickly turn patient, face upward, with roll of clothing under back, as low as possible. Place patient's hands above his head. Kneel with patient's hips between your knees, and fix your elbows firmly against your hips. Now, grasping lower part of patient's naked chest, squeeze his two sides together, pressing gradually forward with all your weight, for about three seconds, until your mouth is nearly over mouth of patient; then, with a push, suddenly jerk yourself back. Rest about three seconds; then begin again, repeating these bellows-blowing movements with perfect regularity, so that foul air may be pressed out and pure air be drawn into lungs, about eight or ten times a minute, for at least an hour, or until the patient breathes naturally.

Dairy Schools in Denmark.

It may not be generally known that Danish dairying stands the highest in the world—perhaps on account of their dairy schools, which are of the most effective character. They include a farm, cows and the best dairy appliances. The pupils are taught occularly and practically. They are told what to do and how to do it in lectures, and then how to do it in the cow house and dairy. A certificate of graduation from a Danish dairy school carries with it a weight of evidence as to the capability of the bearer. In Ireland, where butter of the best quality used to be made, dairy schools are now being introduced. The reason of that is that Irish butter no longer stands first in the market. American creamery butter is displacing it from its former position, and schools are found necessary to raise the quality of Irish butter by making the dairymen and dairymaids more skilful.

THE BAR ROW.

SMITHVILLE, N. C., September 12th, 1881.

MR. REPORTER: The people, or many of them, of this town are delighted that you have at last seen proper to say something concerning this river and harbor work. The manager has had his own way so long, and done as he pleases, so entirely, he has become so enlarged that an ordinary suit of clothes wont fit him. He cannot confine himself now to the government work, but he looks after the private interests of other gentlemen. For instance, he has an eye to Capt. Harper's business at the store, and looks after the interest and welfare of the Passport. They do say that he was so exceedingly solicitous about the Passport that he refused to allow Mr. Taft to use a small portion of the government wharf to land the United States mail.

This only goes to show, Mr. Editor, that Mr. Henry Bacon is a man of very great parts. He has time and ability to look after the river and harbor improvements, and at the same time throw an honest penny into the pocket of his man Friday, Capt. Harper, who blames him?

He spends hours in Wilmington with the Woodbury laying at the wharf, running around trying to cut down the price of a few pounds of nails, while the Woodbury costs the government about $40 per day; but why should any one grumble at such economy? It is true, he could go up and down on the Passport, but who expects this officer to travel so undignified. We like style. And I don't see why men should grumble at the fact that Captain Harper is paid a hundred dollars per month, and allowed to attend to his own private business, and a mate allowed to command the Woodbury. I am completely worried out at those sore-heads always grumbling at such small matters. Why should not the Woodbury be allowed to carry Mr. Harper's private freight, I should like to know? What right has any one to complain at it? I have expostulated with them until my hair is almost white, and I cannot pursuade them to stop such foolishness.

Now, we all know that Mr. Henry Bacon (spell his name right, please) is a man of tremendous capacity. In fact these fellows don't know that he is the only man who has the ability to run so scientific a work. Some are foolish enough to say that Mr. M., his assistant, does all the engineering—this, to say the least, is sacreligious. We wonder that such irreverence has not caused these vile tax payers to be struck blind, or with a ten dollar bill, before now.

And you, Mr. Editor, I must now pay some attention to. What have you to do with this matter? Wont you please just attend to your own business? A newspaper man has no right upon the government of this, we are bound to respect. You must think that because those contemptible, low down tax-payers are grumbling that you have a right to join, but I assure you that you are laboring under a very great mistake. If you see anything going on that you don't like, you just close your eyes and mouth, and put your quill up, or we will demand satisfation. Run your newspaper, please; talk about politics, prohibition, low taxes, railroad steals, sore-head Republicans, and we will even allow you to pitch into the ministers, but we demand that you keep your hands off of our own Bacon (Henry). Some things we can stand, and bless God there are others that we wont. Do you understand? Now, you just keep your hands out of this river and harbor matter, and let that Great, Good and Reverend man, Henry Bacon alone, for isn't he getting ten (10) dollars a day, and the longer the works go on the more he makes—and the poor saint needs the money. He is a Republican of the Radical stripe, and you must not trouble those chaps, they are of the specially annointed. And you are the last man whom I should have expected such conduct from.

But our dear man, Henry Bacon, left this morning, early, on his steamer Eastern, for Wilmington, and he had blood in his eyes, and he will attend to you.

Yours, with sympathy,
WILLIAM X. SNOOKS.

The present crisis in farm matters caused by the drought, demonstrates that there should be better organization and co-operation among farmers than at present exist for such an emergency. It is needful in many sections that farmers be aided; helped through the present extremity until another harvest, but how this is to be done is the question? As organized bodies it is certain they could appeal to merchants, fertilizer manufacturers and banks with more force and hope for success than as individuals. There is a power in embodied opinion and action and this power should be exerted in all cases of extreme necessity. There is a reciprocal interest in this matter to be protected and fostered, and which merchants, fertilizer manufacturers and banks cannot afford to ignore. The farming interest is the basis of their business as it is also the support of all.

The Saloon Keeper and the Women.

At Atchison, Kansas, the women crusaders visited a liquor saloon, and tried by praying to induce the proprietor to close the place. The proprietor invited the ladies in and asked them to pray. He then offered the following prayer:

Oh, Lord in Heaven, thou who has made the heavens and the earth, and created man in thine image as rules of the earth. Whilst animals are living on grass and water. Thou didst teach thy servant Noah to make wine, and thou didst not punish him for making intemperate use of it. At the wedding of Cana, thine only son Jesus Christ, transformed water into wine when the juice of the grape was exhausted, that the enjoyment of the guests might not be disturbed. The great reformer, Martin Luther, said:—

"He who does not love wine, women and song, Remains a fool all his life long."

And all the great men upon the earth have been drinking of the wine thou has given thy children upon this earth. Oh, Lord, we pray thee, have mercy upon these women who are not grateful for thy gifts—who want to make thy children like the beasts of the field and compel them to drink water like an ox, while they dress extravagantly and lead their husbands by other extravagances not tending to our well-being to bankruptcy, depriving them of all pleasures of this world, yea, driving them to suicide.

"Oh, Lord! have mercy upon these ladies, look upon them; they wear not even the color of the face which thou has given them; but they are sinning against thee, and not content with nature, paint their face. O, Lord, thou canst also perceive their figure is not as thou hast made it; but they wear humps upon their backs like camels; thou seest, oh, Lord! that their headdress consists of false hair, and when they open their mouths, thou seest their false teeth. Oh, Lord, these women want men who will patiently accept all this without using the power thou has given to man that all women shall be subject to man. They will bear the burdens of married life, and obey thy commands to multiply and replenish the earth, but they are too lazy to raise their children, and, oh, Lord! thou knowest the crimes they commit. Oh, Lord, have mercy upon them, and take them back into thy bosom—folly out of thy hearts—give them common sense that they may see their own foolishness and grant that they may become good and worthy citizens of our beloved Atchinson. O, Lord! we thank thee for a'l the blessings bestowed upon us and ask thee to deliver us from all evils, especially hypocritical women, and thine shall be the praise for ever and ever, Amen!"

Mammoth Bronze Turkeys,

The bronze is the leading variety of turkey with those who raise for market, on account of their large size and hardiness. They also challenge the admiration of all by their very attractive plumage of rich and changeable colors. The cock turkey in full feather is really brilliant in appearance, and the females are only a little less beautiful. All of the experience of our best breeders has been brought to bear upon the bronze turkeys, which has resulted in their very high state of perfection; for this reason any one purchasing thoroughbred bronze turkeys may feel confident that certain fixed characteristic qualities will be reproduced in their offspring. Their weight is greater than the common stock, and one season's breeding will more than pay for the increased cost originally. Adult turkeys will average from thirty to forty pounds; young gobblers at eight months, from twenty-three to twenty-five pounds; young hens, from thirteen to fifteen pounds, we give these as fair average weights, although they are frequently exceeded, adult pairs of forty-five to sixty pounds being not uncommon. The bronze are good layers and very hardy; but the hens if full grown, for breeding purposes, should not weigh over thirty-five pounds.—Farmers Magazene.

The Oldest Living Ex-Congressman.

Mark Alexander, of Mecklenburg county, Va., advances the claim that he is the oldest living Congressman, disputing for that honor with Edward Darlington of this state. Mr. Alexander is now ninety years old; was in Congress from 1819 to 1834. The distinguished Macon, of North Carolina, and the brilliant Randolph, of Roanoke, were his messmates when in Washington. He is also the sole survivor of the celebrated Virginia Convention of 1829-30. His wife, a daughter of Governor Turner, of North Carolina, still lives and is twenty years younger than her husband. They were married over half a century ago. They live in retirement and isolation from the activities and excitements of this progressive age, but quietly enjoy their country home, with its pleasant surroundings, where they can reflect in peaceful solicitude upon the great events which have transpired during their life, and treasure the associations with the great and cultured still kept green in their memory.—Phila. Press.

Gen. D. Hill says: The southern people are supposed to have but little mechanical genius. But the grandest inventions are of southern origin. McCormick, of Rockbridge county, Va., invented the first reaper ever used. Dr. Reed, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., is the inventor of the rifled cannon; John Gill, of Newberne, N. C., of the principle of the revolver; Gabriel J. Rains, of the same town, of the torpedo system; R. J. Gatling, of Hertford county, N. C., of the gun that bears his name, the most destructive ordnance in the world; Clemmons, of Salisbury, N. C., now living in Louisville, Ky., of the telegraph; Rev. Frank Goulding, of Ga., of the sewing machine, &c., &c. With the exception of the McCormick brothers, none of these southern inventors reaped any profit from their great inventions.

Edison's Electric Light.

The Edison Electric Light Company, the New York Evening Post tells us, has almost finished its work in its first district—that bounded by Fulton street and the East river, Spruce and Wall streets—having already wired 500 houses, and the number of men at work in the district has been reduced from 80 to 40. The 500 houses in the district will require about 30,000 lamps. The mains are laid in most of the streets; and all that is needed to begin lighting by this system are the engines which are promised by the middle of September. Mr. Edison expects that the first illumination by electricity upon a large scale will take place about the middle of October. The contract made between the company and the householder is that the new light shall cost no more than gas. As it is expected to be superior to gas there has been no hesitation in accepting the offer. The lighting up of the first district by electricity will be the signal, Mr. Edison thinks, for a general reduction of prices on the part of the companies, who can all afford to sell gas at one dollar a 1,000 feet and make a profit. For the last two months Mr. Edison has been busily at work upon what he is going to show at the Paris exhibition of electricity. Every outgoing French steamship carries a number of boxes full of machinary from Edison's workshops. Mr. Batchelor, with eight assistants has already left for Paris, where he will remain in charge of Edison's show rooms. Mr. E. A. Johnson will leave in a few days for London, where a model station, similar to the one at No. 165 Fifth avenue, in this city, will be organized according to Edison's plans. The Edison lamp has not yet been properly exhibited in London. In Paris a license has been obtained from the municipal authorities authorizing Edison to put up his lights wherever he may see fit, and it is thought that the exhibition of his light and power which he intends to make will create enough interest in the matter among Parisians to make it worth while organizing a company for the sale of the light.

Since the spring a change has been made in the Edison lamp, by which the lamps last an average of seven months instead of four, and one-horse power is sufficient for nine instead of seven lamps. The change consists in reducing the size of the carbon thread about one-fifth. Improved machinery has enabled Edison's men to do this without impairing the perfection of the thread. The Menlo Park factory is now turning out from 900 to 1,100 per day.

North Carolina Mineral Wealth.

The mountains of western North Carolina present one of the finest fields for the production of mineral wealth on this side of the globe. The country has never been prospected.—Mica and precious stones are in great abundance. The casual observer is everywhere reminded of the existence of minerals. Fine specimens of mica, iron ore, etc., are to be picked up on almost every every hill, while in the valleys the red garnet, amethyst, topaz and limpid crystals are abundant.

A man living near Hickory has large quantities of garnet on his place. A sharper has offered him thirty cents a ton royalty—said sharper to do the mining. Is that cheap enough?—Salisbury Watchman.

Proportion of Cream in Milk.

The first fifth portion of milk from the cow contains about one-twentieth part of cream; the second fifth, one-twelfth; the last fifth, one-sixth. How important then to be careful to get the last and richest drop, even if it were not true that cows are quickly dried up by a slovenly practice of leaving a small portion in the udder. Cows will continue to give a flow of milk at a much longer period when milked dry. Farmers it will be seen receive a double benefit by such a course. First, there is more cream in the milk, and second, the flow will continue longer; two requisites in all dairy countries.

By STANLEY HUNTLEY, of the "Brooklyn Eagle." No. 35 of the "Satchel Series," price 25 cents; W. B. Smith & Co., Publishers, 27 Bond street, New York.

This is a book of genuine fun, wit, humor—absolutely crammed full of irresistible laughter. It is making a great hit and having a large run. The first edition of 10,000 were ordered by the trade in advance of its publication day (July 4th), and before a copy was issued from the bindary a second edition of 20,000 copies were actually being printed (July 23). It reminds us over again that—

Tickle the public and make it grin—
The more you tickle the more you'll win.—
But teach the public you'll never grow rich,
But if ye like a beggar and die in ditch.

Salisbury Register: While Mr. M. A. The poor smith yelled out in great agony, but the brute held on just the same, and his mouth had to be forced open before the man was released.

Fayetteville Examiner: The sale of the Egypt Coal mine to a company of Pennsylvanians possessed of the capital and skill necessary to its development is an event of no small importance to the towns and cities of North Carolina. The mine lies convenient to C. F. & Y. V. Railway, which with its connections insures cheap transportation to Wilmington, Raleigh, Fayetteville and other cities. The town of Fayetteville is directly connected with the mines by rail so that only the freight bills of one road will have to be paid on the coal brought here. The distance is only about forty-three miles and the freight to this point ought not to exceed fifty cents per ton.

Enterprise: Eight new stores on each side of Front street looks like business.——The C. C. R. R. offices and warerooms in Charlotte were damaged by fire on Monday night to the amount of several thousand dollars.——Mr. Hollingsworth's horse became frightened at a drove of hogs last Sunday morning, one of his reins broke, the buggy ran against a pine tree and made a badly scared pile of Mr. H. and the rest of the family.——We learn from Mr. Lock W. McLaurin that one hand on his place picked 382 lbs. of cotton on Friday last; also, that a negro man averaged 285 lbs. and a woman 257 lbs per day during last week. A boy picked 199 lbs. by noon, beginning about sunrise. Eight hands picked in four days 6,909 lbs.

The Newberne Commercial says: After the storm had lulled on Friday night, the steamer New Berne, Captain Southgate determined to make the regular trip and the Elizabeth City connections, and about dark steamed out of her dock and attempted to proceed on her voyage, but the wind was still blowing fresh from the southwest, and having to back out of her dock the wind took her before sufficient headway could be got on her to cause her to mind her helm and come up to her course, and she was carried before the stiff breeze on to Sandy Point shoals, where she now lies aground, but in very easy position, and will be got off probably without any damage. The Revenue Cutter Stevens, Clyde Line Steamer, Experiment, and the government tug, Major, all gave her a pull, but parted their hawser, and the tide had fallen so low they could not get her off.

The Carolina Enterprise (colored.)—The ability of the colored man to accumulate property and manage successfully large farms, as well as to learn the arts, sciences and the various trades, has been clearly demonstrated within the last fifteen years. We mention Mr. Isaac Forbes of Craven county, who has a farm of 1,200 acres of land. He has fifteen tenants on his farm; he has in cultivation 100 acres of corn, 180 acres of cotton, 400 acres of rice, 15 acres of peas and 6 acres of sweet potatos. The crops are in fine order and he has a fair prospect of making 90 or 100 bales of cotton. Mr. Forbes was born a slave and started out in life at the end of the war with nothing.——Judge Clarke of this city, is preparing a work of general reference for the use of the practicing law students, Judges of Probate, and Justices of the Peace. This excellent work will soon be ready for the press.

Beautifiers.

Ladies, you cannot make fair skin, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes with all the cosmetics of France, or beautifiers of the world, while in poor health' nap nothing will give you such good health, and buoyant spirits and beauty as Hop Bitters. A trial is certain proof. —Telegraph.

True despatch is a rich thing; for time is the measure of business, as money is of wares, and business is bought at a dear hand where there is small despatch.—Bacon.

PROSPECTUS.

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN,

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

DAILY AND WEEKLY.

It is devoted to News, Politics, and General information. It is the published at the seat of Government, and in all matters pertaining to Governmental, Political, and Social affairs at the National Capital is superior to the leading dailies of other chief cities of the Union.

Congress and the Departments.

During the sessions of Congress it will furnish a satisfactory report of the proceedings, and will at all times give complete and reliable information of the official doings in the various Executive Departments.

ARMY AND NAVY.

A faithful record will be given of all appointments, promotions, dismissals, assignments, and other matters of interest connected with the Army and Navy.

In politics it will, as hitherto, be and will advocate in a fearless and independent manner what shall appear to be for the best interests of the country.

It will furnish a record of the interesting social events of the day, making its Society Department a special feature. The location of THE REPUBLICAN gives it superior facilities for presenting to its readers faithful reports of all that occurs at the national centre of Literature, Science, and Art, while its intercourse with public men enables it to make a special feature of the Social and Political Events and Gossip peculiar to the National Capital. In Telegraphic Communications with all parts of the world reached by the wires, and will contain each day a full record of the latest occurrences abroad as well as at home. Its Special Correspondence from all parts of the world will be an interesting feature. In its editorials and its Foreign, Domestic, and City News, the management intend to maintain the high standard already achieved, and make such improvements as may from time to time be suggested by the requirements of a first-class newspaper.

THE ISSUE OF THE

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN,

A Double Sheet of Eight Pages and Fifty-Six Columns,

Will be commenced Thursday, September 1st, and will contain in a condensed form, all the contents of the daily, and a large amount of interesting literary and scientific matter prepared especially for the weekly edition.

Army and Navy matters will be made an especial feature, it being the aim and intention to make it the recognized authority in all things relating to these very important branches of the public service—in fact the will be a current history of the times, which no one can afford to do without.

A large amount of space will be devoted especially to the Agricultural and Producing Interests of the Country—the facilities of constant communication with the Officials of the Agricultural Bureau, enabling it to place before its readers all matters of information earlier and in better shape than any other weekly paper in the Country

The following unusually liberal rates will bring it within the reach of all classes. All subscriptions payable in advance.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.,

SUNDAY MORNING, SEPT. 18, 1881

The Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad Company received last week two magnificent engines, and is expecting another in a few days. They are from the Rogers Locomotive Works, at Paterson, N. J., of great power and are fitted with all recent improvements, with 16 inch cylinders, 24 inch stroke and 5 feet wheels. They are for freight service, and are just like the two locomotives recently put on that road for mail service.

THE STORM.—The gale which passed over this city on the 9th inst., is conceded by all to be the severest which has ever occurred in these parts. The damage to property in this city is estimated at about $75,000. The shipping at Smithville suffered very much by the storm. The pilot boat Mystery drifted out to sea and was beached by the waves near the Fort Caswell Light House, and was broken to pieces. Other pilot boats sustained damages.

The ship La Louisiana, which dragged her anchors and drifted across the bar is now ashore on the Cape Fear, locally known as Bald Head Point. Whether she will be gotten off again we are unable to say.

The barque Glacier, which was driven ashore on an oyster rock, has since been gotten off, and is but slightly damaged.

The stern of a small vessel, supposed to be a schooner was seen Sunday drifting across Frying Pan Shoals. The cabin of a small vessel also drifted inside the bar. The lost vessel is supposed to be the schooner Stonewall, from Pamlico county, bound to this port. There are no tidings as yet of the crew, which are supposed to have perished.

The schooner Mary Bear, Capt. Chadwick, with a cargo of 8,000 bushels of corn and general merchandise, went ashore on Stump Sound beach, about five miles this side of New River Inlet, on Friday morning. She is full of water, the bottom having been split. Capt. Chadwick and his men all swam ashore, a distance of about one hundred yards, with the exception of a colored cabin boy, Frank Fuller, of this city, who was washed off the vessel and lost.

A three-masted schooner, name unknown, is sunk off the Federal Point lookout station, about seven miles from shore, and her mast heads can just be seen clear of the water. It is probable that all on board perished.

The steam tug Blanche, for whose safety fears were entertained, arrived in port on the day after the storm.

Report of the damages to crops in this vicinity continue to arrive. So far there has been no loss of life reported or damage to dwellings.

'Locking the Door After the Horse is Stolen."

The Concord Register hits the "nail on the head" in the following closing paragraph upon the "Railroad War" between Jarvis, Vance & Co., and the Richmond & Danville Syndicate, represented by Colonel Andrews:

"If North Carolina, through the keen optics of Gov. Jarvis, Treasurer Worth and Senator Vance, now sees that she could have constructed her own railroads and sustained her own routes of rail travel, why they have simply waited too long before they attempted to put the resources of the state to the accomplishing of this necessary end.—It is too late to lock the door of the horse is stolen. The Richmond & Danville Company have got our 'North Carolina system' of railroads, and the state can see it."

It is well known, and was so charged at the time by Republican presses that the sale of the W. N. C. road to Mr. Best, was a scheme to secure the election of Governor Jarvis and the Democratic ticket, and that had the election taken place two weeks later, Judge Buxton would now occupy the Executive chair.

As this is a subject which we expect frequently to refer hereafter, at present will merely add that, the road now being in the hands of a company that appear able and willing to finish it, that opportunity should be accorded. The road as a property value being lost to the state, it is of small importance who are the owners. The public now desire the use of it.

There is more truth than poetry in a good deal which is said above. The state of North Carolina is beginning to be moribund, if it is not so already. The people do not own themselves. They are not their own masters. The claws of the panther are in its back, and it doesn't know it. The tiger has his jaws at its throat. The hyena will soon hereafter feed on its carcass, and the vampire which sucks the watery blood from its veins.

Congressman Cox writes of the Norwegians: "We see no beggary, no poor houses, no jails; we hear of no crimes or violence. No locks are needed upon doors. Drunkenness is rare. They love music and flowers, and are devoted to their faith and their families. They are never idle. Even the girls are knitting, while attending heep and cows."

In the Pyrenees—A guide is showing off a remarkable echo to a band of tourists. "You will observe, ladies and gentlemen," he says with rapture, "how the sound is repeated from rock to rock, from crag to crag, and especially how beyond the frontier the echo replies with a perfectly distinguishable Spanish accent."

DEMOCRATS AND BONDS.

The Democrats have had so much to say about the Republicans stealing bonds that were issued by the Republican Convention and Legislature of 1868 and 1869, that we publish below the names of the DEMOCRATS and Republicans who received and used said bonds. This will be kept standing for the future in this paper.

The following, who received bonds, were DEMOCRATS:

R. H. Cowan,	$ 2,000,000
W. J. Hawkins,	3,200,000
Geo. W. Swepson,	6,666,000
Wm. Johnson,	2,000,000
E. Belo,	1,440,000
P. Mallett,	500,000
J. B. Stubbs,	450,000
Total,	$16,256,000

Those below were Republicans:

Dr. Wm. Sloan,	$2,000,000
A. J. Jones,	1,500,000
Total,	$3,500,000

For every Dollar received by a Republican, a DEMOCRAT got FIVE.

The steamer City of Richmond, in a fog run into an island in Penobscot Bay. The Captain and part of the crew came here in a small boat, and chartered the steamer Pioneer, which has just gone to take the passengers. The Richmond is probably a total loss. The passengers landed in safety on the island which is not inhabited.
